Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it to thee.

Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

Martha saith unto Him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

Jesus saith unto her, I am the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

She saith unto Him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

John 11:21-27.

Three Wins Chalked Up By Irma Sr. Hockey Club

On Thursday, January 8th, Edgerton were visitors to the Irma team. Sparked by the 5-goal effort of A. Glasgow and 4 goals by J. Ganie, the local boys beat Edgerton 10 to 3.

In the first period Irma scored 3 times to Edgerton's 1. The second period saw Irma pull well ahead with 6 goals through some good passing and combination plays. In the last period, Irma's defence weakened with Ganie in the penalty box for tripping and Butch Fischer for holding. Edgerton got two fast goals and that was all the scoring for the Edgerton team, while Irma broke through for 7 more goals.

Irma lineup: M. Miller, E. Prosser, L. Spornitz, J. Ganie, R. Glasgow, R. Lovig, G. Lovig, B. Fischer, A. Glasgow, R. Prior, B. Patterson.

Edgerton lineup: Lyn Herbert, Vern Herbert, J. Nichol, B. Skene, D. Taber, J. Woodbridge, B. Fidler, F. Leskow, V. Martz, G. Challenger, P. Bedford, B. Grover.

Point-getters for Edgerton: J. Nichol, 2 goals; 1 assist; D. Taber, 3 assists; F. Leskow. Penalties: Leskow, 5 min. for fighting; V. Herbert, 2 minors for tripping.

Irma point-getters: A. Glasgow, 5 goals, 2 assists; J. Ganie, 4 goals, 1 assist; R. Lovig, 2 goals, 3 assists; G. Lovig, 2 goals, 2 assists; B. Fischer, 2 goals, 2 assists; R. Prior, 1 goal, 3 assists; B. Patterson, 3 assists; E. Prosser, 2 assists; R. Glasgow, 1 assist.

On January 10th, an exhibition game was played between our local boys and the Czar team with a pretty good crowd turning out to watch the fastest game played in the Irma rink this season. G. Prosser opened the scoring at the 6 minute mark of the first period while G. Lovig got one a minute later before Czar came through to get back into the game.

In the second period, Irma did all the scoring, getting 4 goals to go ahead 6 to 1. Czar played hard but couldn't finish off around the goal.

In the third period Czar started out fast, getting a goal at the two-minute mark before M. Miller shut the door on them for the rest of the game.

R. Glasgow got both Irma goals on passes from A. Glasgow.

Irma lineup: M. Miller, J. Ganie, G. Prosser, S. Larson, A. Glasgow, R. Lovig, B. Fischer, B. Patterson, R. Prior, A. Glasgow, R. Glasgow.

Point-getters: G. Lovig, 3 goals; A. Glasgow, 1 goal, 3 assists; R. Glasgow, 2 goals; B. Fischer, 2 assists; J. Ganie, 2 assists; G. Prosser, 1 assist; R. Prior, 1 goal, 1 assist; S. Larson, 1 assist.

On Monday night, January 12, our local boys played hosts to the Viking team. Viking is the new entry in the commercial hockey league this year. The Irma boys, sparked by R. Prior with 4 goals and 3 helpers, soundly trounced the Viking team 12 to 1. A. Glasgow picked up four assists to show that he can still set up those big goals. Only 5 penalties were handed out, 2 to Irma and 3 to the Viking team.

The Irma boys put up a much stronger defence than Viking with C. Allen in their lineup. They have one of the hardest hitting defences in the league and M. Miller is one of the better goalies to watch. With a fine glove hand, he has let very few pucks get by him, and with the forwards skating faster every game, the Irma boys are going to be very hard to beat. So, everybody come to cheer on the local boys. There's lots of room to stand and watch, with lots of hot coffee and hot dogs to go with it. Let's see you all out to the next game.

Irma lineup: M. Miller, C. Spornitz, C. Allen, B. Patterson, J. Ganie, G. Prosser, S. Larson, R. Lovig, G. Lovig, B. Fischer, A. Glasgow, R. Glasgow, R. Prior.

Viking lineup: Child, Otto, Andrukow, Watson, Cikanik, Brisard, Briggs, Volter, Anderson, Walker, Henderson.

Irma point-getters: R. Prior, 4 goals, 3 assists; B. Fischer, 2 goals, 2 assists; A. Glasgow, 1 goal, 4 assists; R. Lovig, 2 goals, 1 assist; J. Ganie, 1 goal, 2 assists; R. Glasgow, 1 goal, 2 assists; G. Lovig, 1 goal, 1 assist; C. Allen, 1 assist.

Viking point-getters: Briggs, 1 goal; Volter, 1 assist.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—Alberta's department of lands and forests is putting new emphasis on public relations.

It started over a year ago when Lands and Forests Minister Norman Willmore appointed a public relations officer who, among his other duties, edits a land, forest, and wildlife magazine which comes out every two months.

The department's biggest public relations undertaking to date will be a land, forest and wildlife resources conference slated for the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton on Jan. 22.

Discussions at the conference will centre around all of the province's renewable resources. Speakers will include university professors, forest conservation workers, parks superintendents and fish and game officers from the department.

Mr. Willmore is hoping the 2-day session will become an annual event, and through it he hopes to establish better contact between his department and the public.

A number of interesting displays will go along with the conference. The most spectacular of these will be the lands and forests department's helicopter, which is being dismantled and will be set up in the lobby of the auditorium. The helicopter paid for itself several times over during the forest fire season last year.

In addition to the new emphasis on public relations, the lands and forests department has been undergoing a general re-organization during the past year. Mr. Willmore has appointed a full-time game branch director, and commercial fisheries have been placed under a separate branch to administer programs aimed at bolstering the province's fishing industry.

To head up an expanded provincial parks program, the minister appointed E. P. Shaver to a newly-created post of parks director. Provincial parks used to be handled by the director of lands, but the province is planning to step up its program and parks administration is going to be a full-time job.

Probably the most important change in the lands and forests department is the expanded forest fire suppression program, which started after a bad fire season in 1956 proved that the existing setup was inadequate to handle a serious situation.

Since then the department has started using aircraft to fight forest fires, has hired more men, built more forest access roads and lookout towers.

Other policy changes and new programs have been coming along thick and fast from Mr. Willmore's office. A survey being conducted now is aimed at setting aside lakeshore land in the province for summer cottage sites. Under the program, residents of the province will be able to lease cottage sites for $10 a year.

The department also is working on a program to reclaim unused and unproductive land. It's only in the planning stage so far, but the department hopes to set aside a couple of pilot reclamation projects.

It is aimed at finding a use for land which isn't supporting forest growth and which isn't suitable for farming. In some cases, reforestation could be the answer. Other possible uses might include grazing land. Marginal land with lakes and streams might be developed for recreational purposes.

ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES are asking for financial help on special winter works projects worth a total of more than $8,600,000, according to latest figures from the department of municipal affairs.

Under a scheme announced earlier this winter, the federal government will pay 50 per cent of the province 25 per cent of

Jr. FUA Camp Plans Announced

The tenth annual Farmers' Union of Alberta Convention was the first to hear of the plans and objectives of the Jr. FUA Gold Bye camp project.

Jr. FUA President, Dean C. Lien outlined to the assembled body the purposes, aims and objectives of the camp. The convention was told that starting out of the Jr. FUA annual meeting last June, a committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of a youth camp to be devoted to education and training of the Farm Young People of Alberta.

Mr. Lien announced that the Jr. FUA had acquired land on the east side of Gold Eye Lake, which is situated 6 miles west of Nordegg. The committee in the Eastern Slope Mountain Conservation area and the land is being leased from the Province of Alberta. The camp area is central to a system of roads that makes it easily accessible from all areas of the province.

labor costs on municipal work designed to ease winter unemployment.

Projects costing around $6,000,000 have already been approved by both governments. Direct payroll costs on these will amount to about $1,700,00, and they will provide some 110,000 man-days of work.

Municipal affairs officials say they expect many more applications, because municipalities are showing a keen interest. In order to qualify, a project will have to be started soon because it must be finished by April 30.

Most of the municipalities also are interested in borrowing money from the province to finance their projects.

The true story of one small borrower...and 'MY BANK'

A few weeks ago, Julian Janvrin, an Englishman by birth now living in Toronto, came upon this headline in his daily newspaper: "Bank of Montreal Deposits Top the Three Billion Mark". A depositor at the B of M since shortly after his arrival in Canada five years ago, Mr. Janvrin was prompted by the headline to write a letter to Gordon R. Ball, president of the B of M, outlining his experiences as both a depositor and borrower at Canada's first bank. We thought Mr. Janvrin's story of his struggle against adversity was worth repeating, and with his permission, have made it the basis of this advertisement.

The Success Story of Julian Janvrin...

Julian Janvrin is the last person in the world to say that his is a success story. We think it is. But you can judge for yourself.

FIVE YEARS AGO, shortly after his arrival in Canada with his wife and three children, Mr. Janvrin had occasion to cash a cheque at his local B of M branch in Toronto. "Although I had told the manager that I was just an immigrant," he recalls, "he invited me to open an account, and it was gratifying to me to feel that my confidence in the future of Canada was reciprocated by the Bank of Montreal. Two or three weeks later I opened an account at that branch."

Like most newcomers to Canada, Mr. Janvrin had only enough capital when he arrived to get himself settled, and eventually he found himself short in meeting the final payment on his car, which was essential in his new job as a salesman. So he talked over his problem with his B of M manager, who considered him a good enough risk to advance him the money he needed.

But let Mr. Janvrin continue the story in his own words: "I mention this because bankers are sometimes charged with being little more than moneylenders and unmen, but in this instance, I knew that the Bank of Montreal was acting as it were on behalf of the people of Canada in helping me to get established in much the same way as in pioneer days the Bank of Montreal must have advanced funds to immigrants to purchase seed, a few implements and maybe a team of horses."

"Soon afterwards I gave up selling, disposed of the car and took a regular job by night, while my wife by day quite literally took the holes out of doughnuts. One of us was able always to be with the children, two of whom were not then of school age."

"Fifteen months later we decided to obtain cheaper rental accommodation outside Toronto. A car, however, would then be essential. Again the bank went along with us. "Two years ago the landlord of the house we were renting decided to sell the house. Again the Bank of Montreal helped us and advanced the down payment that prevented our home being sold over our heads."

"This summer my son, having passed through six grades in three years at public school, sat for the competitive entrance examination to a school for which I would have to pay an annual fee... For this, too, I am in large measure indebted to the Bank of Montreal, for in June my financial circumstances were such that had I not been confident of my banker's support, I might not have ever considered sending him to that school."

"We have now again moved into Toronto to be nearer the school, but our circumstances have improved, inasmuch as our teenage daughter has now left high school of her own wish and is now working; and as the two younger children are now at school, my wife in the New Year will be in a position to take an office job."

"This is not a success story, for the struggle, believe me, is still on. But our bank account is now in better shape than it has been for the past five years and will now perhaps bear scrutiny. "I am now, therefore, at last in a position to write to thank My Bank and in particular my bank manager, for the confidence it placed in us and for the help, encouragement and courtesy it has always extended to us."

"To me it is no surprise that the deposits of the Bank of Montreal should have topped the 3-billion mark, for although from the short term point of view I myself am not yet in a position to make large deposits, it may well be from the long term point of view, that my son, as a representative of the coming generation, may be in a position to do as other sons of Canada are now doing."

The B of M is, of course, proud to have played its part in Julian Janvrin's success story, and is grateful to him for allowing us to publish it to indicate some of the many ways in which Canada's first bank works with Canadians—new and old alike—in every walk of life from coast to coast.

Mr. Janvrin's story provides a sincere and unadorned testimonial to the fact that "When you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal, you do not ask a favour."

When money is a problem with you, why not see your B of M manager? If your proposition is sound and reasonable there's money for you at the B of M... at the lowest rates and on the fairest terms.

An average Canadian family, Mr. & Mrs. Janvrin and the two younger children relax at TV their comfortable Toronto apartment.

"Out to know your banker," says Mr. Janvrin. "Your bank is your confidence." A quote from his letter to the bank manager.

Nine-year-old Robert Janvrin, seen with his youngest sister, Patricia, is a student at one of Canada's top preparatory schools, thanks to a loan from B of M.

DRIVE WITH CARE—THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Don't ignore crossed eyes

A message with a sense of urgency for all Canadians has drawn C.N.I.B. into film production. The message that management will convey concerns the unnecessary blindness that each year robs children of precious sight because of neglect and ignorance about care of the eyes.

Using color, sound, numerous dramatic devices and the double impact of the audio-visual medium, the film, tentatively titled "A Chance in Sight", will drum home the idea that unless crossed eyes (strabismus) is caught in its early stages, blindness in one eye is almost a certainty.

The film is the result of some years' observation on the part of C.N.I.B. personnel. Executive officers, Field Secretaries and social workers reported from all provinces that most people believe that crossed eyes in children will straighten out of their own accord with the passing of time. In reality, just the opposite is true. Crossed eyes cause the child to see two of everything. If nature is allowed to take its course, the weaker eye stops seeing. This reduces the visual image to a single object but the sight of one eye is sacrificed in the process. Each year hundreds of Canadian children suffer this type of blindness and the tragedy is the more lamentable because the condition need never have developed. If crossed eyes are corrected under a doctor's direction during the first few years of childhood, both eyes work together. Both eyes see in unison and the child observes the same single image world that he would have seen had the condition never existed.

Parents don't know this. They neglect to take their children to the school nurse discovers the problem the damage is done and one eye is gone.

To inform parents about the true facts on the cure of crossed eyes C.N.I.B. has joined forces with Motion Picture Centre, a highly recommended film company.

Telling the story of one family whose first-born has crossed eyes, the film discloses the anxieties and doubts of the parents, their unwillingness to face their problem and the discovery of a successful solution. All parents and those who care for children should put this documentary on their viewing list.

In 1959 25 prints in English and 25 in French will carry this important information from coast to coast. By contacting your nearest C.N.I.B. office you may book this film for church groups, P.T.A. community club or family showing.

Through your booking you will share in bringing to the parents and the good tidings that children with crossed eyes, if treated in time, have "A Chance in Sight".—The Canadian, Camrose, Alta.

EARLY-ORDERED CHICKS MOST PROFITABLE

Saskatchewan poultrymen will operate most profitably by ordering chicks from hatcheries from the present until late January for delivery in February or March. Ted Campbell, poultry manager, says the delivery of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture was recently.

Mr. Campbell said chicks ordered for delivery in February and March would come into production in late summer and early dates can be arranged to better suit the poultryman than in the later, busier season.

There are management reasons why early ordering is favored by the poultry commission. In late winter it is easier to maintain uniform brooder temperatures than in May and June when outside temperatures vary widely. There is more time for a farmer to spend with chicks in late winter than spring when field work competes for his time.

Mr. Campbell also said that chicks brooded in February could be put out on range in May and early June when grass is lush and nutritious. Late-brooded chicks generally have to forage on poorer range when put out at the end of June.

The poultry commissioner advised, however, that the price differential was being gradually reduced as more specialized producers enter the egg market. In 1957 the August-September prices ran from 48 to 48 cents per dozen compared to 30 to 35 cents in late November. Earlier years showed as wide or wider price differentials.

Another reason for early delivery of chicks was many hatcheries give discounts on early orders. Mr. Campbell said. Chick delivery

Woman's Way

MADELINE LEVASON

"FIBRE FORWARD MARCH"

Forecasting the future is a favorite pastime as we face another new year. Predictions of fabulous new discoveries don't seem so far-fetched when we stop to think of those of recent times which we now take for granted.

I have just been reading a report on Canada's textile industry producing with man-made fibers and fabrics. It made me realize that a whole generation of young Canadian women have never had to dampen and iron their lingerie. Yet at the same age, their mothers would have thought, "drip-dry, no-iron, easy care" slips, nighties, blouses, etc., were incredible.

The report shows that in just 25 years the man-made fibres have taken over 27 percent of the entire market in Canada for all fibres. Before production of the first "artificial" fabrics began in the twenties, Canada had a well-developed silk weaving industry. The advent of viscose, then acetate saw the gradual switch of this weaving industry from the silk worm's fibre, to those extracted from Canada's natural resources.

Nylon, the first chemical fibre, was invented just before the last war and it has been followed by Orion, Terylene, Arnel and others. Countless more are being experimented with in the laboratory. Today, quite apart from the wool and cotton mills, this section of the textile industry employs 15,000 Canadians producing 160 million dollars worth of fibres and fabrics each year.

These mills have not only won over more than one quarter of the Canadian fibre market but they have been a leading force behind the revolution in textiles which we have experienced during the past 20 years.

Who can tell where such developments will end? Is it not possible that the next few years will see further drastic changes in our textiles and clothing? Certainly there is every reason to believe that the search for better, and easier care, clothing will continue.

Organ installed in Maple Leaf Gardens

It took exactly one year to install the huge pipe organ in Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, but it was well worth it judging by the applause of the spectators on hand at the Leafs-Boston game. The instrument was introduced to the Garden fans and to a national radio audience on that evening. It took Gardens' building superintendent Doug Morris and sound engineer Bob Wood exactly one year to install the powerful organ that was heard for years in Toronto's famed old Shea's Theatre.

The organ has 1,500 pipes ranging from the smallest flutes to the 32 foot by 27-inch diapasons. It has 227 stops operating under 25-inch wind pressure generated by a 30-horsepower motor which feeds 3,800 cubic feet of air a minute through the gigantic instrument.

Maple Leaf Gardens is the last of the six National Hockey League arenas to install an organ. Previously one of the military bands from Toronto supplied the musical entertainment between periods.

Civil Defence achievement

By HELEN A. MARTENSON,
Director of Public Relations and
Publicity for SA-9Q

One of the most recent achievements in Civil Defence is the conversion of trucks into ambulances in 15 minutes.

We, in Regina, remember at the time of the Winnipeg flood, when hundreds of patients from Deer Lodge and other hospitals were evacuated to Regina and there were only two ambulances in town. It was hectic.

Heads of transportation companies—railways, bus companies, trucking companies maintain—and they are right—that in any disaster, transportation is essential. Many a person who has been injured in an automobile accident or train wreck is harmed more by the manner in which he is carried to the hospital than by the injury.

After considerable research and work, Civil Defence experts have come up with a device to convert trucks to ambulances—and it is very simple. All it requires is that the truck bodies be pre-drilled to take the wing bolts which hold the supports for stretchers. The drilling does not weaken the truck. It is a matter of minutes to attach the fittings by means of the bolts through these holes—slide in the stretchers—and a patient, no matter how ill or how disabled, can safely ride in comfort. These fittings are being purchased and stock-piled in our hospitals as an integral part of Canada's civil defence program. This plan has been accepted by the heads of major transportation companies in the country who have thus committed their equipment for instant use in a community emergency. These fittings will very soon be in use for the stretchers at our First Aid Posts throughout the province.

This is another instance in which Civil Defence is working to save lives. Civil Defence is a necessity in this day and age. Why not make enquiries—and get the expense-free training available at Valley Centre, Fort Qu'Appelle, January 27-30 at the next General Course.

Children are a great deal more apt to follow your lead than the way you point.

Secretary of SARM succumbs

Stanley Ferguson, 66, Regina, and formerly of Borden, for many years a tireless worker with Saskatchewan rural municipalities, died recently en route to hospital.

At the time of his death he was secretary of the Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalities.

Mr. Ferguson was born in Worthington, England, and came to Canada in 1911 with the Northern Crown Bank. He left the banking profession in 1926 and was at that time manager of a branch at Borden.

When he left banking he became secretary-treasurer of the Rural Municipality of Great Bend (No. 405), 40 miles northwest of Saskatoon.

He served with the Great Bend Municipality until 1961 when he moved to Regina and became secretary of the SARM.

He was still active in this position at the time of his death. He became ill while attending a New Year's Eve Shrine party and died en route to hospital.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Borden; the Lodge of Perfection and Rose Croix at Saskatoon; Saskatchewan Consistory and the Wa-Wa Temple, Regina.

Besides his wife, Norma, he is survived by three sons, James, Calgary; Richard, Edmonton and Roy, Saskatoon; one daughter, Dorothy, Saskatoon; eight grandchildren and two sisters, in England.

Pigeon problem solved

The cooing of pigeons is a pleasant sound amidst the raucous noise of the city. But not when the pigeons congregate on the church roof and make so much noise on Sunday mornings that they disturb the solemnity of the service.

The Rev. Dillard Brown, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C., wondered what to do. Recently he had an inspiration. While some workmen were repairing the roof, he gave them a big life-sized rubber snake purchased at a novelty store. The workmen left the snake in a conspicuous spot. There hasn't been a pigeon on the roof since.—The War Cry.

HOW CAPTAIN FUCHIDA WAS CONVERTED

My friend, Dr. B. L. Olmstead, editor of Arnold's Commentary, has condensed a story from Christian World Facts, 1937-38, which we pass on to you.

Captain Fuchida, who was in charge of the air fleet of 360 bombers that rained destruction on Pearl Harbor had come to the Christian Servicemen's Center in Sasebo, Japan, to give an address. He told of the experiences that changed the direction of his life. He declared, "Under orders from Tokyo I led the attack on Pearl Harbor. Now I am serving under higher orders." How he came to know Christ was told by him in these words:

"I had a friend who was imprisoned in America during the war. While he was a prisoner, he and his companions were much impressed with the kindness of an American girl who came to the prison to bring them gifts of food and reading material. My friend asked her why, when they were enemies, she could do this kind deed for them. She explained that her parents had been Christian missionaries in Japan. In the fury of war they had been sent to a Manila prison, cruelly treated, and finally beheaded by the Japanese authorities. Their last act was to write a letter to their daughter asking her always to love the people of Japan.

"Where did she learn this teaching about loving your enemies?" I asked my friend and he showed me a Bible.

The captain paused, reached into his pocket, and pulled out a simple little tract, which he held up.

"This was handed me by a former American sergeant in Tokyo soon after the war. It tells how he was captured by the Japanese, imprisoned, and brutally treated. By some means he was able to procure a Bible. As he read and reread it, all his bitterness melted away and he resolved that if he survived the war, he would return to Japan and teach what he had learned—the love that forgives. (That man was my friend, Jacob Deibitzer of whom I have written before in this column.)

"I was so deeply moved by the lives of these two young Christians that I got a Bible for myself and read it."

Eleven years after Pearl Harbor, Captain Fuchida became a Christian. He now devotes his time to telling the people of Japan

Aid for Leukemia research

A grant of $5,000 has been provided by the Leukemia Society, Inc., of New York, for research on leukemia at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon. Leukemia is cancer of the blood.

The research is under the direction of Dr. R. Altshuler, professor and head of the department of anatomy, and Dr. S. Fedoroff, assistant professor of anatomy.

It is the third year in succession that funds have been provided to the department by the Leukemia Society for leukemia research, and support for a fourth year has already been promised.

Dr. Fedoroff said, "we are trying to learn more about leukemia because the greater our knowledge, the greater the chance of uncovering some information that may eventually lead to a cure."

The specific approach of the research is the testing of the blood of leukemia patients for toxic substances. The blood serum is brought into contact with living cells, grown in test tubes for many years. The effect of the patient's serum on the cells is studied. Furthermore, the studies attempt to analyze the chemical structure of the toxic substances and thus come closer to the understanding of the disease.

EASTERLY ECHOES

Mr. Chris Burton was the guest of honor on the occasion of his birthday Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burton. All his relatives in the Irma district and a few neighbors spent a very enjoyable evening playing Canasta.

Mrs. Bill Walker won Ladies' first and Ted Thurston, gent's first prize. Ladies' consolation to Mrs. W. Dootson; Gent's consolation to Chris Burton.

After a bountiful turkey supper, all returned home hoping Chris would have many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Hugh Kennedy is home again in Wainwright after spending the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Bill Brown of Edmonton.

Dr. Max Saville was in the district Tuesday vaccinating calves.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton spent Friday evening at the Wes Bacon home.

Though we are still in the cold area, I doubt if we feel as hard hit as those in the west coast areas. Mrs. A. B. Pennock of Washington reports four inches of snow in their locality.

Congratulations to Mrs. J. J. Kennedy on winning twice at the Legion grocery bingo in Wainwright Saturday.

Kathy Stephenson is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fenton.

Glen-Coa Cleanings

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jack Halvorson is in Wainwright Hospital at time of writing. On Saturday last, Mrs. Halvorson had the misfortune to break her right arm. Her many friends hope she will be home from hospital soon.

The past week has been a busy one for a bevy of willing workers at Sharon church. A new Kirk's forced-air heating unit was installed which promises comfort, no matter what the weather.

A big welcome to the little newcomer in our midst, Garnet Charles Mackay, who came on January 5th to make his home with his proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mackay.

Mr. Ambler, accompanied by Frank Valerius, Kline Selstad and Gunner Myers, left last week for a month's holiday in Mexico.

While playing on the rink last Sunday, Maurice Miller was struck on the mouth by a flying puck, which resulted in three stitches. Fortunately his teeth were not damaged.

The card party at Albert on Tuesday was well attended. There were 8 tables. Prizes went to Mrs. Garfield Coulman and Keith Currie; Consolation to Mr. C. Spornitz and Mrs. P. Miles.

Card of Thanks

I wish hereby to express my sincere thanks to all the friends of the Alberta Protestant Home for Children, who by their donations in 1958 and previous years, have helped the home to carry on its work of love and mercy.

For the next two months, donations to this home may be given to Mrs. C. Pyle and Mrs. Ted Hill or left at the Co-op store. —Minnie Johnson, 16-23c
